

CRI's advisors provide comprehensive captive insurance services, helping clients navigate through the complexities of establishing and operating a captive.

BENEFIT FROM SERVICES AND SOLUTIONS THAT ARE:

Insightful

- We help clients with the “hows” involved with forming a captive plus the “whys” behind it. We can evaluate whether establishing a captive makes sense for your company based on your cash flow, finances, risk profile, and other considerations.

In-Depth

- CRI has a global understanding of the captive insurance market that stems from experience in 20+ captive domiciles, and over 200 insurance clients, both domestically and “off-shore”. CRI's insurance team consists of over 70 professionals in 25+ markets across 10 states who can assist you with establishing your captive, manage your captive, and meet your auditing and reporting requirements.

Strategic

- A strategic plan can cohesively guide the formation, implementation, operation, and reporting of a captive. CRI analyzes the regulations and premium tax surrounding choices in captive domiciles, risk management strategies, captive structuring, and other important factors to guide you through the captives establishment planning process.

More and more, companies are establishing captive insurance companies to find both more affordable insurance coverage and more flexibility in managing their risks. Captives can help their owners reduce and stabilize insurance costs, protect assets, secure otherwise unavailable or unaffordable coverage, obtain improved control over claims handling, and enjoy favorable income tax benefits. Additionally, in certain cases, the formation of a captive has the ability to result in an additional profit center for the company.

CRI has long-lasting relationships with captive managers, attorneys, and actuaries. We collaborate with you, the captive manager, and other professionals of your choosing to structure the most beneficial captive insurance company that meets your risk-management needs.

Captive regulations and incentives are constantly changing and are different between domiciles. Reporting requirements also vary depending on the captive's domicile and structure. CRI has extensive experience providing captive audit, tax, and consulting services to clients around the globe. We will use this knowledge and expertise to guide you in the direction you want to take your business.
